FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1926

Y. SEPTEMBER 24,

MRS. BELMONT TOLD TO VOTE.

Radical Suffragists Demand She Stomps Booth.

Proposal to Force Issue on Election Day Made.

Militant Woman May Worry the Tammany Tiger.

NOT DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES]
NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Will Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont force her way into a Tammany polling booth on the coming election day and insist on voting until she is put out?

Probably she will not. Certainly in so doing she would be acting contrary to the general policy of the women suffrage leaders in America. Nevertheless, the extremists are forcing the demand that Mrs. Belmont prove her devotion to the cause by this most unpleasant indignation.

The proposal to force the issue on election day was launched this week when the National Progressive Women's Suffrage Union threw forth over Twenty-third street the first political banner ever floated in New York in favor of voter freedom. The big flag, which was presented by Lady Clegg of England, has the name of the association across it. In letters two feet high and presents two scenes in silk—the first, President Lincoln giving freedom to the slaves; and the second, President Taft "refusing freedom to women."

Behind this militant emblem, Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch, who was the principal orator of the day, started even the "aggressives" among her own party to arms, that can in part as follows:

"You have put on your banner that you are constitutionally entitled to vote. You have even said that you are going to vote. What you propose to do about it? Let me tell you. The elections are coming on in a few weeks. The polls will soon be ready. Storm them. Go to them—each one of you and insist on voting."

"DON'T BOTHER TO REGISTER."

"You will not permit the registrars and poll clerks to waste valuable time and strength if you attempt to do that. So don't bother with it, but go to the polls and don't leave them until you've cast your ballot. One woman has already done it, and it has been upheld in many courts of the United States."

"And I tell you that it would add to the safety of nations if every woman would pick out a polling booth in her district and make up her mind not to retreat from it till her voice was inside."

Hardly had the plan been launched before the "aggressives" began to circulate some forward as the leader in its execution. "They admit that they resent her easy entrance into suffrage leadership, and they want her to pass a decree exempting her from the law," say the Southerners and the Plain Americans.

On the other hand, however, the "moderates" are entirely satisfied with the scheme. They say that the Southerners believe that the social aid which she contributes to the cause is of real value and that the magnificent Fifth Avenue headquarters which she has given to the Negro Association has proved the sincerity of her interest.

With this sentiment behind her, Mrs. Belmont's hand cannot be forced by the radical minority in the movement.

STRIKING GREEKS IN UGLY MOOD.

THREATEN VIOLENCE TO LUMBER HANDLERS AT RED BLUFF.

Sheriff Preparing for Trouble and Many Deputies Are Sworn in to Protect Men Willing to Work—Riffs Found Hidden Under Bridge—"Last Warning" Sent.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES)

RED BLUFF. Sept. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sheriff Boyd is prepared for trouble with striking lumber handlers here, and has sworn in many deputies to protect men who are willing to work.

Six men went to work in the yards of the Diamond Match Company this morning, where the strike was declared yesterday. About 10 o'clock the strikers sent a "last warning" to the Sheriff, who was called upon to protect the men in their work and immediately sent deputies to the scene.

Today morning the yards will be opened with men imported from the outside to take the places of the Greeks.

The demands of the strikers that Foreman Coney be discharged have been ignored. The Americans or Greeks will have no chance to return to work.

A rifle was found hidden under the end of the river bridge this morning, and the Greek who is believed to have put it there has been arrested. It was probably put there so it could easily be secured in case of a clash with officers or with strike-breakers.

About 125 men, the majority of whom are Greeks, are on strike.

MAKES MILLIONS BY PANIC!

Frank A. Munsey Cleans Up Over $5,000,000 Through Stock Investments in Perilous Times.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES)

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] By staking a huge fortune on the future prosperity of the United States at a time when business conditions were sticky, Frank A. Munsey, the publisher, is said to have cleaned up more than $5,000,000 profits through stock investments made during and immediately after the disastrous financial panic of 1927.

This winning, by reason of a nervy personal bull campaign, conducted against the advice of many of his more astute financial men, is one of the biggest winners on Wall street. On steel common alone, of which he is said to have had 160,000 shares, bought around the 40 mark and some of the others, making a good profit.

J. M. Dickinson, Secretary of War, himself a Southerner, last night stayed mob rule in South and advocated protection for blacks in property rights.

DICKINSON IN SOUTHERN TALK FLAYS MOB RULE FOR BLACKS.

Secretary of War at Nashville Declares Negroes Should Be Protected in Property Rights—Race Cannot Be Controlled Unless Justice Is Accorded—Sanction of Lawlessness Condemned by Speaker.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

NASHVILLE (Tenn.), Sept. 22.— With Secretary of War Dickinson as speaker on topics affecting the North and the South, a great crowd was attracted to the State fair grounds.

Gen. Frederick D. Grant, the speaker of the fair, reviewed a uniformed regiment of Confederate soldiers in front of the grand stand, himself appearing in the full uniform of a general of the United States Army.

Passing to a discussion of the race problem, Secretary Dickinson said:

"It is idle to talk of a settlement of the negro question in the sense that all agitation and controversy will cease. We must always be alert to determine the negro question or the labor question. There can be no settlement to it as to remove forever controversy arising from the continuing conditions of twelve millions of one race, both having the same rights and opportunities under the existing law and theoretically the same citizenship with its attendant rights. In any aspect the question is portentous."

"The distant future may evolve something held in store the operation of set forces which we cannot foresee. The destiny of a nation is happily a closed book. We must deal with the present and its problems; they appear as the canker, the trouble as they arise. To control them and to make them as harmless as possible calls for the exercise of the highest wisdom, firmness, moderation and justice."

"If the white people assert the right to govern, the government should be open of fairness and justice, a government of law and not of passion. The courts, and not mobs, should punish law-breakers. Negroes should be protected in their civil rights, governed by just and governed by the constituted authorities."

"Those who established the commonwealth of the South did not consider that the negroes had any rights except those of fair treatment and justice. Andrew Jackson, who would have shamed with indignation the very suggestion that they are regarded as the greatest of enemies to the welfare of the South."

DIASTROUS STORM.

HURRICANE DEATH LOSS GROWS TO HUNDRED; MANY MISSING.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 22.— At least 100 people lost their lives in the tropical hurricane that swept the gulf coast Monday, according to conservative estimates made tonight.

Those engaged in the work of rescue and repair have found the task colossal.

Thousands of men worked today trying to get telegraph, telephone and railroad communication into shape, but with indifferent success. Many miles of track and scores of bridges were washed out and wires are down in all directions.

Further details of property loss come in with the gradual restoration of communication.

Cattle, cows, horses, hogs and thousands of dead birds and muskrats are floating on the water of the bayou.

FIND THREE BODIES.

The bodies of three fishermen were found today in the marshes several miles from the city of Orange.

Two persons were killed by the collapse of a house near Clinton, La. No trace of the crew of nine men on the schooner Seven Brothers, wrecked near the Rigouts, has been found.

A relief expedition, equipped by the Louisiana Game Commission, left New Orleans today for the Gulf coast going direct to Galveston.

It will make its way toward Galveston, distributing supplies and rendering aid to the suffering population.

RELIEF NEEDED.

The dozen or more relief organizations which left New Orleans at the earliest moment after the hurricane are pushing their way along the coast to adjacent territory, dealing out food, clothing and emergency supplies of all kinds to the destitute people.

The death toll, which in many storm victims has been greatly elevated, as each mile of coast is traversed, more victims are found in a deplorable condition.

Several thousand are expected to return to New Orleans late today, but others will be sent out to take their places. The work of rescue is now principally directed toward the remote sections of the Barataria parish, where the loss of life and property damage are most severe.

ODD FELLOWS SEE SIGHTS.

SEATTLE, Sept. 22.—This being Odd Fellows Day at the World's Fair, the sovereign grand lodge listened to eulogies of deceased members and then honored the living members on the grounds of the Knights of Columbus.

The lodge appointed a committee to devise ways and means to establish a tuberculosis sanatorium for the whole order and made the matter a special order for tomorrow.

NO DOUBT IN MAINE.

OVATION IS GIVEN PEARY.

Welcomed at American Border With Enthusiasm.

Mayor of Bangor Escorts Him to Luncheon.

School Children With Flags at Vanceboro.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

PORTLAND (Me.) Sept. 22.—From the moment Commander Peary crossed the International boundary line at Vanceboro, the eastern terminus of the Maine Central Railroad, shortly after 8 o'clock this morning, until he arrived at Portland tonight, his reception amounted to a continuous ovation.

At every station where the train stopped between Vanceboro and Oldtown, there was a crowd of cheering country folk, who seemed to appreciate the fact that it was the first few hours that the commander was enjoying in his own land, with his own country's flag greeting him on every side.

At Bangor the explorer was welcomed by thousands. Mayor John F. Woodman escorted him to a carriage and he was driven rapidly to the Hotel House, where the representative men of the town entertained him at an informal luncheon.

OLDTOWN AWAKE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

OLDTOWN (Me.) Sept. 22.—Amid the booming of cannon, the chiming of bells and the tooting of horns, the main carrying Commander Robert E. Peary to the railroad station here this afternoon.

It was a genuine "Down East" welcome. A large placed on a large pole read:

"Welcome Peary: You Have Reached the North. Pulled up the Pole and Put Your Adversary in the Hole."

Commander Peary said:

"You know, I do that today has been a white-letter day for me. An splendid demonstration in this city, every foot of which I knew in my boyhood days has touched my heart."

"It is the union of the Stars and Stripes and all its lands, the top of the earth that has been secured."

I have been asked what is the most valuable thing the discovery of the North Pole. There are some things about it that are a great deal bigger than the gathering of a few additional data about the North. As long as we have the pole, the earth undivided, it was a representation of humanity and a challenge to civilization. Another thing, it has added to the United States another mile stone in history."

"Another fact is, the satisfaction that at last a man, in spite of every obstacle, has made good."

WELCOME AT BORDER.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

VANCEBORO (Me.) Sept. 22.—Commander Robert E. Peary received an enthusiastic greeting when, for the first time since his return from the North Pole, he touched American soil.

Virtually every one of the 500 inhabitants of the town rushed to the station. School was dismissed and the children, each carrying an American flag, lined the streets of flowers, marched down to the train.

Peary acknowledged the welcome by speaking briefly, addressing his remarks principally to the children. It was not long before, when asked about reaching the pole, said Commander Peary, but the Stars and Stripes had made his achievement possible.

Commander Peary said it was the people of the United States behind him that made his achievement possible.

He answered to questions he said: "I shall not accept any invitation to speak over the air or anywhere until a competent authority has settled the present controversy. In this connection, let me say the decision of this authority must be final, and when that decision is made, say what that court of final resort shall be, but that can be determined later."

DR. COOK WIRES.
GUIDE TO COME.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

HAMILTON (Mont.) Sept. 22.—Edward Burrill, a guide who was the only man with Dr. Frederick Cook when he claimed to have reached Mount McKinley, sent a telegram to-night from Dr. Cook asking him to meet the explorer in New York as soon as possible. No reason is stated why the doctor desires to have Burrill join him.

Burrill declined to say whether he would comply with the request or not. He is still awaiting word from the office of Mount McKinley.

Recently he said that he would prepare an affidavit regarding the trip up the Alaska peak when Dr. Cook goes to New York. He also agreed to go to the states of the affidavit and what it would disclose he has refused to say a word. Since his location became known, he has received many telegrams, cables and letters from newspapers, lawyers, Arctic societies and private individuals and companies making flattering offers of money for his story, but he has refused to be enticed to accept any of these offers.

NEGROES PLAN BIG HENSON, WELCOME.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the midst of the great hurrah for the two claimants to premier polar honors, the third man to reach the top of the earth, Matthew Henson, Peary's modern Negro lieutenant, has agreed to appear at a committee comprising nearly all the prominent negroes in this section of the country has been organized with Charles E. Anderson, collector of interest revenue, as chairman to meet him at the Women's Reception.

"Nothing has been definitely arranged as yet," said Chairman Anderson today. "Because we can't be sure what Henson wants to do there, we'll give him a royal welcome."

COOK CATECHISM HELD RIDICULOUS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

SAN JOSE, Sept. 22.—Maurice Con nell, member of the Arctic Club, reason of his trip with Peary in 1882, today gave out a signed statement ridiculing as foolish the list of catch-questions asked of Cook yesterday.

"The only thing true is that he will receive a royal welcome."

DEPLORABLE CONTROVERSY.

In introducing Dr. Cook, Rear-Admiral Sibley said:

"Like all who have achieved similar success in other fields of activity, Dr. Cook is characterized by a spirit of often prideful from disappointment, fast to all fair and just-minded people. It only regret that there should have been raised any issue over an achievement which there was glory enough for both."

"Our gutt's splendid behavior under those trying circumstances has attracted the admiration of his countrymen and the admiration of his friends. I believe, as president of the Arctic Club of America, upon their statements, that both Mr. Peary and that may be a mystery, but you who know will appreciate that no explorer can start and say that he will reach the pole. Many a good man has tried before, and all have failed. All who understand the problem know that success is but barely possible when every conceivable circumstance is favorable. We can only say necessary to anyone that an expedition working the pole to chart an undesirable homeward and flourish of trumpets. This I chose to escape."

"Mr. Bridgeman furnished the funds. I am not being deadly of the expense. For the time being the expenses concerned us only. I believed then, as I believe now, that if we succeeded there would be time enough to fly the flag. You can see, Mr. Cook, that we have come together to celebrate that victory. Now gentlemen, I appeal to you as explorers and men, to come in to us to help us to our goal. Any man, to any body of men, for a license to look for the pole?

EVERY POSSIBLE AID.

"You know we had every possible chance to succeed in sledge traveling. A big ship is no advantage. An army of white men, who, at best are novices, is a distinct handicap, while a company of negroes is a decided advantage. We chose to live a life as simple as that of Adam and Eve. We forced the strands of human endurance to scientific limits. If you furnish the pole, we are in other respects as good as any other team."

"Mr. Bridgeman furnished the funds. I am not being deadly of the expense. For the time being the expenses concerned us only. I believed then, as I believe now, that if we succeeded there would be time enough to fly the flag. You can see, Mr. Cook, that we have come together to celebrate that victory. Now gentlemen, I appeal to you as explorers and men, to come in to us to help us to our goal. Any man, to any body of men, for a license to look for the pole?

EVERY POSSIBLE AID.

"You know we had every possible chance to succeed in sledge traveling. A big ship is no advantage. An army of white men, who, at best are novices, is a distinct handicap, while a company of negroes is a decided advantage. We chose to live a life as simple as that of Adam and Eve. We forced the strands of human endurance to scientific limits. If you furnish the pole, we are in other respects as good as any other team."

NO DOUBT IN MAINE.
OVATION IS GIVEN PEARY.

Welcome at American Border With Enthusiasm.

Mayor of Bangor Escorts Him to Luncheon.

School Children With Flags at Vassalboro.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

PORTLAND (Me.) Sept. 22.—From the moment Commander Peary crossed the international boundary line at Vassalboro, the eastern terminus of the Maine Central Railroad, shortly after 8 o'clock this morning, until he arrived at Portland tonight, his reception amounted to a continuous ovation.

At every station where the train stopped between Vassalboro and Oldtown, there was a crowd of cheering country folk, who seemed to appreciate the fact that it was the first few hours that the commander was enjoying in his own land, with his own country's school children on every side.

At Bangor, the town which welcomed by thousands, Mayor John P. Woodman escorted him to a carriage and he was driven rapidly to the Bangor House, where the representative men of the town entertained him at an informal luncheon.

OLDTOWN AWAKE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) OLDTOWN (Me.) Sept. 22.—Amid the cheering and the clinking of bells and the fanning of flags, the train carrying Commander Robert E. Peary stopped at the railroad station here this afternoon.

It was a genuine "Down East" welcome. A large placard on a large pole read:

"Welcome Peary! You Have Reached the North. Pulled Up the Pole, and Put Your Adversary in the Hole."

You know, I do, that today has been a white-letter day for me. This splendid demonstration in this city, every foot of which I knew in my bones, has now touched my heart.

"It is too big a thing to comprehend. It is the union of the Stars and Stripes and all its lands with the top of the earth that has been accomplished."

"I have been asked what is the scientific value of the discovery of the North Pole. There are some things about it that are a great deal bigger than the gathering of a few additional data about the world. For instance, there was a part of the earth undiscovered, it was a reproach on humanity and a challenge to civilization. Something, it has added to the United States another mile stone in history."

"Another fact is the satisfaction that at last a man, in spite of every obstacle, has made good."

WELCOMED AT BORDER.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) VASSALBORO (Me.) Sept. 22.—Commander Robert E. Peary received an enthusiastic greeting when, for the first time since his return from the North Pole, he touched American soil.

Virtually every one of the 550 inhabitants of the town rushed to the children, each carrying an American flag and a bouquet of flowers, marched down to the train.

Peary acknowledged the welcome by waving his hand, and the children, each carrying an American flag and a bouquet of flowers, marched down to the train.

that may be a mystery, but you who know will appreciate that no explorer can start and say that he will reach the pole. Many a good man has tried and all have failed. All who understand the problem know that success is barely possible when every conceivable difficulty is overcome. It is only necessary to announce that an expedition embarks for the pole to start an undesirable bombardment and scaring of trumpets. This I chose to escape.

I have come to furnish the funds I shaped the destiny of the expedition. For the time being the business concerned us only. I believed then, as I believe now, that we were forced to the pole, and hence ended the pole there is no other way. For our simple needs Mr. Bradley furnished sufficient funds. We were not overburdened with supplies. I have never had to appeal to any body or men, for a license to look for the pole?

EVERY POSSIBLE AID.

"You know we had every possible aid to success in sledge traveling. A big sledge, no advantage. An army of white men, who are not novices, is a distinct handicap, while a cumbersome luxury of equipment is fatal to progress. We chose to live a life as simple as that of Adam and Eve, and thus had the time enough to fly the banner of victory. You are here tonight. Mr. Bradley is here, and I am here. We have come together to celebrate that victory. Now gentlemen, I have come to tell you that we need no more. I am bound to appeal to any body, to any man, to any body or men, for a license to look for the pole?"

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
PORTLAND (Ore.) Sept. 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A spectacular race was the 2:12 trot at the Portland Fair meet today in which Henry Gray, owned in Seattle, pulled down the Commercial Club purse after a hard fight.

There were ten entries, among the fastest horses on the Pacific Coast. Three heats failed to decide the event and in the fourth Henry Gray had two heats and Lee Crawford, owned in Denver, had two. Tense interest marked the fifth heat. The Seattle owner took the lead at the half and held it easily to the finish.

Dr. E. B. Kellogg of Helens, Mont., who has Mussoeveli and Tortoise, also two yearlings, entered in the race, the former best his lead in two straight heats in the two-year-old pace for the Manufacturers' purse.

Willy Klemm, the Frenchman best going, The Mexican in the races several times, was third, and hard. Herrera did not materialize.

Heights with open guard, hardly any punishment, and the Frenchman, who had the most pride all over the track, was at wit. Herrera's vaunt did not materialize.

Heights in the first, but after did business. In the second scored, and the bell was rung. The third returns to Hyland pounding the Mexi-

cana over the ring, and the bell

GREAT LANKERSHIM RANCH SOLD, LOCAL SYNDICATE TO SUBDIVIDE.

Two and a Half Millions for Forty-eight Thousand Acres in San Fernando Valley—Soon Open to Home-makers.

The GREAT Lankershim ranch of 48,000 acres, in the heart of the fertile San Fernando Valley, has just been purchased for $2,500,000 by a syndicate of local capitalists which will proceed to subdivide and sell it in small parcels to home-makers. This is the largest and most notable real estate transaction ever made in Southern California. The ranch sold is the largest undivided piece of property in Los Angeles county, having a length of ten miles and a width of more than six and one-half miles.

A number of surveyors will go into the field soon, and towns will be laid out; a boulevard along the entire length of the ranch will be constructed, together with fifty or sixty miles of local and lateral roads.

Homes for at least 25,000 persons will be possible under the plans of the purchasers, the ranches to be placed on the market affording abundant opportunity for the support of this city from the products of the soil. As the southern boundary of the ranch is but a few miles from Los Angeles, a tremendous addition to the "back country" of this city is thus assured in a very few years.

The purchase includes not only the land, but all the property of the Los Angeles Farming and Milling Company. This takes in the company's big milling plant in this city, the warehouse, live stock, engines, wagons, harvesting machinery, and all other appurtenances of the Farming and Milling Company. The Farming and Milling Company will continue the operation of the ranch for another

A partial list of the members of the syndicate which has purchased the property is as follows: Sartori, president; Maurice S. Hellman, vice-president, and W. D. Longyear, cashier of the First National Savings Bank; Stoddard Jess and W. C. Patterson, vice-presidents of the First National Bank; James H. Adams and James R. Martin of James H. Adams and Company; O. J. Wigdall, president of the Home Savings Bank; W. H. Allen, R. C. Gillis, E. J. Marshall, E. E. Hewitt, and J. S. Torrence. There are a number of other purchasers—good citizens who have been patriotic and successful developers of Southern California. Henry W. O'Melveny will be money for the new owners.

Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Van Nuys, Who Have Relinquished the Vast Property.

Mr. Van Nuys was associated in the management and ownership of the immense ranch, his wife being a daughter of the late Isaac Lankershim, who bought the land from Pio Pico and the De Celles family.

Just completed is the Encino ranch, the Lankershim's comparative small ranch, situated between the Lankershim ranch, and is owned by outside interests.

Just completed yesterday by one of the purchasing syndicates, its purpose in mind is to make money; it is to be used to secure desirable lands or being forced to sell, and may pay more than is desirable.

The northern boundary of the Lankershim's ranch is the Chatsworth, while to the west are the foothills of the Santa Monica Mountains, and to the east the level floor and slightly rolling hills of the remainder of the great valley.

The crop of the Los Angeles Farming and Milling Company for the current year is approximately 300,000 bags of wheat and barley.

In the production of wheat the ranch is notable in Southern California. It is about the only one that is continuously and successfully operated along these lines. Under the terms of the sale, the Farming and Milling Company will continue to operate the ranch for the next year by itself, and then turn it over to the various sections.

The organization of the property of the ranch is not known at the present time, but it will be followed up on the market.

Where for more than thirty years has been only a broad, uninterrupted expanse of wheat fields and only the grain crop turned the soil, there are now rising up schools and churches and schools and stores.

WATER ABUNDANT.

Throughout a great part of the ranch there is an abundant supply of water close to the surface, and the owners express the assurance that they will have no difficulty in obtaining all that is needed for irrigation and stock watering.

Though the ranch long has been noted for grain growing, it is by no means simply an expanse of waving wheat and barley. Along the county road that runs north and south is a series of hills and valleys that are covered with ancient live-oak trees. There are acres and acres of these beautiful trees, the landscape being dotted all over the "Land of Baldness." In the hills and valleys there would have to be a fair price paid to obtain them.

There are some fine old ranch houses which have just recently been put up in the best style. It is believed that the town of Lankershim will be built up from the remains of the old tract house.

Lively Presentment of the Day's Interesting Happenings in Los Angeles County.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

PASADENA. BRIDGE PLAN FINDS FAVOR.

Enthusiastic Boost Given to Big Proposition.

Improvement Club Is Formed for the Southeast.

Public Playground Will Be Opened This Afternoon.

Office of the Times, No. 21 E. Raymond Avenue, PASADENA, Sept. 24.—An enthusiastic boost was given the proposition for a $100,000 bridge to span the Arroyo Seco at the end of Colorado street, last night, at a meeting of the committee of twenty-five prominent citizens appointed by President Off of the Board of Trade to investigate the subject.

After a spirited discussion an executive committee of five was authorized, with William F. Knight as chairman and to be appointed by him. On this subcommittee will fall the major portion of the work of compiling data and formulating a plan.

Chairman Knight was instructed to work with the Board of Trade Committee and arrange with that body for the location of the terminals of both the high steel bridge and the lesser propositions for a concrete bridge fifteen feet above the present structure. The proposal to merely improve the old swinging bridge was turned down as out of the question.

Knight will appoint his executive committee at once and the project has been launched in a manner that promises success. The money will probably be raised by the city, the county, the Highway Commission, which will pay what it would cost to improve the highway done away with by the bridge—and by an assessment of those to be benefited by the improvement.

NEW IMPROVEMENT CLUB.

Friends of the southeast section of the city to the number of forty-five, met last night at the Thruway Elementary School building and organized the Southeast Improvement Association. Rev. W. H. Cornell was elected temporary chairman and W. A. Gribble, temporary secretary.

The club has in mind to the storm-drain subject; service on the Oak Knoll system of the Pacific Electric Railway, which the residents say is not as frequent as they would like; the street-lighting operation; parks and other matters. The association will ask the ornamentation of the fence surrounding Tournament Park by the planting of vines or by any other means that will break the long straight asphalt roads.

Next Monday night organization will be completed and subcommittees appointed.

RACKET WIELDERS.

What promises to be a notable season of tennis will be launched tomorrow at Carmelita Gardens by exhibition matches in men's doubles and mixed doubles on the courts of the club and the public ground. Within ten days announcement will be made for an open singles' tournament for the cup that has been offered for the event by Mayor Thomas P. Johnson.

Tomorrow the Prince Station and Gifford Herd will play Miss Mary Brown and John Holmes. There will be doubles between Herd and Horrell and Holmes and Daggett.

In addition to the tennis there will be two basketball and two baseball games.

The public playground will be formally opened with an all-afternoon band concert, entertainment, fair, racing, etc. Superintendent Ryerson announced that he will form a Sunday school league for baseball and one for basketball.

CHEMICAL ARRIVES.

The new chemical engine for the Huribut street engine-house was loaded from a car at the Santa Fe station yesterday. It cost the city in the neighborhood of $2000. It is calculated to protect the entire southwestern portion of the city.

SPLATTER FRESH TARGETS.

Sunday, members of Co. I are to spatter the new targets of the recently completed target range in the Arroyo Seco. The State application for the range is now filed at 475, which did not seem enough, and Mayor Earley magnanimously donated $100 to carry out the plans. The main site is 80 feet wide, 10 feet across and 12 feet deep. It will be open to the public on the second Sunday in October with a shoot in competition with the Santa Ana team.

FIRST SCRIMMAGE.

Twenty candidates, twelve new men and eight of last year's squad, were on hand at the initial practice of the Throop Polytechnic Institute football team yesterday. It was the first real scrimmage of the season, and Coach Spires was assisted by Amson Link, assistant coach, and by Don Ross, captain of the academy. The scrummage, which included the show-down made, and is now making up the team schedule for the season.

MORE CACKLING.

Constable Harley F. Newell, who resides at No. 45 North Hudson street, stated yesterday that a protest against the recently enacted chicken ordinance is being drawn up which will ask the Council to defer consideration of the proposed law over for a week in order to afford an opportunity for the holding of a meeting on the subject.

CAMPBELL PLANS WELCOME.

James Campbell, who is a member of Gov. Gillett's staff, is in charge of the local arrangements for the entertainment of the delegation from the National Association of Adjutant-General, who will convene in Los Angeles next week and visit Pasadena during one day of their stay there. This afternoon a committee appointed by Lt. Col. Campbell, of the Board of Trade, met at 4 o'clock to discuss plans for this entertainment.

RUN AWAY TO SANTA ANA.

GO TO ORANGE COUNTY FOR ORANGE BLOSSOMS.

Eloped, but Didn't Have To.

Mrs. Lee Bixby, formerly Miss May Gallagher, who ran away to Santa Ana with Angelino the day before she was to have been married to him at her parents' home in Hollywood.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 23.—Although all the arrangements had been made for their marriage on Tuesday last, Miss May Gallagher, the bride, eloped with Mr. Lee Bixby, the bride's sister, Miss Cora Gallagher, and Charles Glidemar, acted as attendants. The first news the parents had of the young people's change of plans was when they telephoned from Los Angeles on Tuesday that they were married and were on their way to Santa Barbara for a week's trip.

Miss Cora Gallagher and Mr. Glidemar went to Orange the first of the week to a house party. Monday afternoon they received a message from Mr. Bixby at Santa Ana, saying that Mrs. Lee Bixby, Mrs. May Gallagher had run away to Santa Ana, and wished them to come down and be witnesses at their wedding.

The bride had all her wedding finery with her. After the ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's mother, she wanted protection. She said she had spent the previous night in the Palos Verdes hills. Immediately, Mrs. Lee Bixby and Mr. Bixby prepared a home for her.

Mr. Bixby is a vocalist, and has won many awards in dramatic art. She is possessed of unusual beauty. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Gallagher. Mr. Bixby is an employee of the Wells-Fargo Express Company, Los Angeles.

FIVE-MASTED SCHOONER OFF REDONDO BEACH.

REDONDO BEACH, Sept. 23.—This is a picture of the schooner W. H. Marion, 110 tons net, Capt. Hersey, one of the largest and best equipped sailboats ever built. She is unloading her cargo of 22,000 hard wood ties from Hawaii for the Santa Fe Company. This is the first of a contract of $60,000 ties to be brought here this year for the railroad by the Marion and the St. Katherine. A large quantity of ties will be necessary on the Marion, owing to her equipment of modern machinery.

READY TO DIVIDE ESTATE.

San Fernando Relatives Now in Line to Receive Property After Twenty-five Years.

SIERRA MADRE, Sept. 23.—A canvass of taxpayers and residents indicates a strong disapproval of the plan regarding the purchase of a City Hall building. Many prominent persons here are strongly desirous of the action of the trustees. Some assert that the time is not ripe for this move, and that the people should be heard on this important issue. The trustees and city officials are now offering explanations.

One says the deal has not gone too far to be reconsidered. The property is up to a value of sixty thousand dollars to $20 per front foot. Reality appraisers say this is excessive and beyond the present market price. Other property close by can be bought at less. Legal advice is sought by some of the citizens.

Mrs. Olin died October 4, 1884, leaving a widow and three sons, one of whom has since died. At the time of her death, Mrs. Olin had four children. She left an estate of personal property and real estate. The husband takes one-half of the personal property and holds the use of the real estate for life.

FIGHT OVER SITE.

Matter of City Hall Location Continues to Worry the People of Sierra Madre.

COUNTED OUT.

Santa Monica Bath-house, Once a Show Place, Closed—Liberal Club to Be Organized.

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 23.—The North Beach bath-house is closed, and the claim is it will never again open its doors to the bathing public. The plunge was put out of commission by the flood of two years ago and was never repaired. During later days, as modern bathing places made their appearance along the shore, the old frame structure fell into disuse and farther and farther behind in the race. When it was built it was one of the show places of the Pacific beach, and did a great business for many years.

Now a Liberal Club will be organized here, and at its meetings all sides of religious, political and economic questions will be discussed. The membership is to be open to everybody. Football practice was commenced today by the boys of the High School. They expect to be able to form a team of considerable strength to participate in the collegiate series of games.

PEPPER TREES AT CASA VERDUGO.

OCEAN PARK, Sept. 23.—Funds are being raised by popular subscription for the purpose of establishing a series of signals along the beach for use in case of emergency when bathers are in trouble. Twelve stations are to be established along the sand and permanent antennae and such will be equipped with the usual buoys and other conveniences for use in the saving of life. It will also be possible to give the alarm from any of these stations to any of the stations.

There will be plenty of good action in The Times Magazine the coming Sunday. You will be surprised at what you learn about it.

Mrs. E. J. Brent of No. 18 and 19 Exchange Square was hostess yesterday afternoon at a bridge whist party. The guests included members of the La Señora Bridge Club, and a number of friends.

FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN.

By MISS SYDNEY FORD.

Yesterday was "opening day" in several of the big stores, and this semi-annual function has come to be such an important event that the receptions usually extend over two or three days. In fact, the balance of this week will be devoted to the spas, excepting the new autumn mode. These "openings" are well worth seeing for they reflect the season's fashions in everything from hats to handkerchiefs and from gowns to starters.

The shopwindows look like glimpses of a fairytale of fashion, and night they are brilliantly illuminated with electric lights. In one of the largest stores whose "openings" are always most elaborate affairs, lovely dresses and electric fountains and rosettes with ever-changing lights glittering between the fronds of ferns challenge the admiration and wonder of every passer-by. On one side of this great white store the windows are dressed in gorseous yellow chrysanthemums mingled with the delicate tracery of ferns, and from this charming setting are displayed the season's hats—wings and winds of all kinds.

On the other side of this immense store two of the big windows are hung with wisteria and another is gay with gourds. One side of this side of the store is another window and dress in gorseous yellow chrysanthemums mingled with the delicate tracery of ferns, and from this charming setting are displayed the season's hats—wings and winds of all kinds.

At another "opening" it was difficult to follow your way through the throng of women—and men—whose eyes were glued on the revolving forms in those fascinating windows. Such gorgeous gowns as they were!

A Lovely Model.

All the afternoon, in the big white store, a model promoted back and forth, a model promoted back and forth, stretched across the floor at one end of the display room of women's gowns. Every fifteen minutes the graceful model appeared in a new creation, and suddenly, as if by magic, was trailed over that canvas by this beautiful model were really worth going miles to see. One glance at a gown worn in this way will tell you more of colors and lines, and shapes and styles, than columns of written words. If you haven't seen her, then go by all means this evening—she means it is well worth your while if you are interested in frocks and fashions.

Hats are Huge.

Hats are large—there's no use denying it or beating about the bush. The hats are sensible, but not so gaudy, milliner yesterday assured me, "they don't look so large after you get them on." Unless you wear your hair ratted and pompadoured you'll have a hard time finding a hat that will fit your head down to your ears when you try it on. There are all built for exaggerated dressing.

Of course, there are the turbans—but well, really the new said about them the best. I went to a "opening" yesterday is a fair sample of the small hats. They look like draped Turkish scarfs when placed on your head, and a draped scarf of heavy black velvet over a small, round, white turban.

The big, long-horned beavers are lovely, and come in colors as well as black, a beautiful shade of dull green being much favored. These need no trimming, except an owl's head or a swishing plume.

Moyen Age Jewelry.

The big store which has selected delicate sprays of asparagus fern as its trade-mark for the opening has gone out the infinite pains to arrange these lovely sprays in cases where the immense stock of jewels is kept. The effect is charming.

It is nothing new now Moyen Age jewelry that is exquisite. There were brooches, for instance, formed of a single large violet stone in amethyst shades and surrounded with brilliant diamonds. These were lovely, and the brooches done in gold lattice work studded with glittering Rhinestones, and dozens of other new and novel designs.

Perpetual Ferns.

If you live in apartments and haven't a flower garden of your own from which you can pull table decorations, then one by all means get yourself one or half dozen of these lovely air ferns which may be had for 15 cents apiece. They require nothing but air to feed and grow upon, and always fresh and green, and graceful.

At another "opening" it was difficult to follow your way through the throng of women—and men—whose eyes were glued on the revolving forms in those fascinating windows. Such gorgeous gowns as they were!

Books for Boys and Girls.

There are several new books just out in favorite series for boys and girls. Carolyn Wells has brought out the seventh volume of the Patty Field series, and Amanda M. Douglas has likewise issued the seventh volume of the "Home Grown" series. These books are always of interest to the maid of sweet 16 or thereabouts, and it is, perhaps, well to state that Miss Patty's relation to the maid of the child of Miss Jane Webster's brain. Book sellers tell me that the two "Patties" of these separate and distinct books are often mixed, and confounded as one and the same person.

Amy Brooks has also brought out her seventh volume of the Dorothy series, and Helen Green's "Gardens" book, which will be good news to the ten-year-olds.

The boys are especially favored by the fall output of the publishing house of A. T. Dutch, and one of a football story. The books on a which is the initial volume on the Triangular League, and Tomlinson, the of the "War for the Union" series, be-are the next volume of books with "For Stars and Stripes."

College athletes who enjoy Strateger's tales will rejoice in the fifth volume of the Dave Porter books and the Wakeport volume—the fourth in the series.

Clarence Young has also brought out two new books—one in the Jack and Jones series and another, the eighth in the "Moles" series.

Fathers and mothers will therefore have no difficulty in providing the boys and girls with their favorites books for Christmas.

More Trouble.

Book to Cure Faults.

Any spending of books for the young folks reminds us that Priscilla suggests as an aid for correcting the faults of children "Goliath Burgess's book of "Goops."

In this clever and comical volume the faults of the everyday child are put into rhyme and all around the little poem are pictures of the little "Goops" doing these dismal things. For instance, every child at some period of its career is pretty sure to develop a passion for marking books. Instead of scolding or punishing, it is a great deal pleasanter to teach the child to change the little rhyme to the small offender and after hearing it a few times he will be saying it himself:

"If you scribble on your books How do you like to look? A silly picture over all,

Take a paper or a slate,

Take a pencil or a brush, It is a help to the teacher when you begin to chant a Goop rhyme.

Suspend spanking and try the "Goops."

A Historic Mantle.

Very recently there has been brought to light, after lying in a pawnshop in Athens for years, a very beautiful mantle with an interesting history. In the windows of a silk and lace shop at The Hague it is now displayed. It was ordered by Napoleon III for the Empress Eugenie, and cost something like $10,000. The mantle was intended for the coronation ceremony of the Empress—which never took place—and was bought but once at the opening in 1865 of the Rue Cambon, first floor, all in blue pieces mounted on velvet, some with pink arabesques and lined with silk. It was the work of seven skillful needlewomen.

The company was given to the eminent French artist who made the design, which was destroyed as soon as worked. The monogram of the Empress appears in the pattern, twined in garlands of lacy flowers.

Bridal Mantles.

Velvet belts in the design of flowers, each blossom holding a gem, will be a pretty fashion.

The latest whim of the Parisian is carrying the evening gloves in the hand instead of wearing them.

The French tailors are making a new coat which gives the back of the new coat a small contrivance.

Rings have grown to such large size and are so enormous that the wearing of gloves has become a question.

For evening wear there are huge turbans of white marabout, trimmed with white sashes and a rhinestone buckle.

Hatpins of mammoth dragon flies, butterflys and other terrible things that recent observations show that the canals of Mars are disappearing.

Cloth of silver gives a most effective touch to a turban or black velvet dress.

Tulle is worn not only as a material of many dresses, but tends to support the theory that life exists on Mars and that canals denote a system of irrigation.

MARTIAN CANALS DISAPPEARING.

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—A telegram yesterday from Percival Lowell at his observatory in Flagstaff, Arizona, states that recent observations show that the canals of Mars are disappearing.

The judge in his statement of the case said Mrs. May loved a Bohemian existence and probably did not live congenially with her husband, who was an attorney of the firm type. He denied that Mr. May should have possession of the property and give his wife $150 a month for separate maintenance. The suit is estimated to cost Mrs. May $1,000, and as he had to bear the expense of both sides.
